9. Research profile:

I’ve been working on a lot of individual and collective scientific projects:

– conducted research on the topic: “Application of mathematical statistics to study pricing and formation of agrarian market in the Russian empire in the XVIII – the beginning of XX”: In this project regression, correlation and dispersion analysis, time-series analysis of grain prices movement in Russia from the second half of the Eighteenth Century to the beginning of the Twentieth Century was conducted. In the process of preparing Master degree thesis (1991-1994) at Historical faculty of Odessa I.I.Mechnikov State University. Among other things, I developed and implemented new original methods of time-series analysis of historical-economic dynamics. Receive diploma of Specialist (Master) with honors;

– conducted research on the topic: "Mathematical methods in the research of the integral indexes of social-economic development (on the example of grain price dynamics in Russian empire in the Second Half of the Eighteenth Century – the Beginning of the Twentieth Century)". In the process of preparing PhD (candidate) thesis in History, (09.01.1994 – 02.26.1997). Prepared at Odessa I.I.Mechnikov State University. Defended at Dnepropetrovsk State University (Ukraine). Major subject of project was quantitative research of agrarian market formation in the Russian Empire in the XVIII – the beginning of the XX century with the accent on questions methods of mathematical statistics in historical researches. I applied correlation, dispersion, regression analysis and logical-mathematical simulation. I composed logic-mathematical model of Russian grain prices movement in the second half of the eighteenth and prepare computer realization of the model;

– carried out the individual project on a theme "Simulation of the grain prices movement in Russia in the first half of the Nineteenth Century" (September 1996 - May 1997 at financial support of the Moscow Public Scientific Fund. Total award was $1600);

– carried out the individual project on a theme "Simulation of formation and growth of all-Russia grain-commodity market in the second half of the Eighteenth – the beginning of the Twentieth Century" (September 1997 – May 1998 at financial support of the Moscow Public Scientific Fund. Total award was $2000);

– developed interface shell on GIS-language MapBasic for regional electron maps management in GIS MapInfo (April 1998 – October 2000, As the part of the project of creating the GIS-oriented decision support system in emergency situations for the Regional service of Ukrainian police. Project was commissioned by the Odessa regional department of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Ukraine. Total funding was $36000). My part of the project was creating a sample of automated worksite for regional electron maps management in GIS MapInfo and programming interface shell for this sample on GIS-language MapBasic;

– conducted researches on the construction of formal models for the development of theoretical history (1998 - 2010). (Independent not funded project. The main results published in monography). The main aim was searching for regularities in shift of paradigms of historical cognition. I have created several formal simulation models for development of the theory of history, including the finite-difference models of this process (created within the simulation system Stratum) and models based on the application of ternary logic of parametric general systems theory; developed some variants of logic-mathematical model of the world-historical development conception of N.Danilevski and worked on making general model of world-historical process conceptions’ development. Important hypotheses about the character of interconnection between social consciousness and scientific theories were grounded.

– conducted research on the topic: “Modern methods of political processes simulation: theory and practice of application“. In the process of preparing D.Sc. (doctoral) thesis in Political Science (2009 –10.07.2011). The thesis was prepared and defended at National University “Odessa Law Academy” (Odessa, Ukraine). Major subject of project was: development of simulation models of contemporary political process in Ukraine and forecast of political stability grade in Ukraine till 2031 on the base of synergetic dynamics; simulation of civil protest activity in local temporal and spatial scales (J.Davies' model modification); adaptation of new methods of modelling (among them – artificial neuronets and chaos theories) to research socio-political processes;

Currently my academic activities are conducted within the thematic field of the department of political science and public administration at the Vasyl' Stus Donetsk National University "Dynamic aspects of socio-political processes in Ukraine and the world in the second decade of the 21st century". The project conducted under the funding of the Ministry of Education and Science of Ukraine. My part of work is:

- analysis of problems of sources of modern international terrorism; study of international aspects of domestic political conflicts;
- developing the model of international migration flows and gave forecast of the values of these flows until 2050;
- analysis of transformations of self-identification of international migrants;
- PhD candidates and master's supervising.
